ABBOT CENTENNIAL RECITALS

Beautiful Concert Given by Albert Stoessel and Arthur Bassett in Davis Hall on Saturday Afternoon — Arthur Hackett to Sing in Last Recital of Series

One of the most beautiful concerts heard at Abbot Academy in recent years was given last Saturday afternoon by Albert Stoessel, violin and Arthur Bassett, piano.

If there were people who were skeptical of the ability of a busy conductor to be at the same time a recitalist, they must have been amply convinced. Many people thought Koussevitzky would be unable to justify a recital on the contrabass, but when they heard his beautiful tone and became aware of his virtuosity they realized that the conductor may sometimes be a great performer. Stoessel gave us startling proof of this in his recent recital. There seemed to be no loss of technique, though one marvels at his ability to retain it, and he brings to his playing a breadth of artistic insight such as one might expect of a conductor.

LOYAL LEAGUE EXERCISES

Medal Awarded for Essay on "Youth's Preparation for America of Tomorrow" — Music by Orchestra

Ruth Stott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. H. Stott of Phillips street was awarded the Loyal League medal for the best essay on a given subject offered by Phoebe Foxcroft. The subject was "Youth's Preparation for America of Tomorrow." The subject chosen this year was "Youth's Preparation for America of Tomorrow." and the contest was open to the pupils of the eighth grade.

The members of the school assembled to music furnished by the school orchestra. The exercises were presided over by Mrs. Charles E. Abbott, regent of the local chapter of the Daughters of the Revolution, who spoke of the purpose of the society, which is to preserve the history of the country and honor the deeds of our forefathers. The desire to have young people share in their work led to the forming of the Loyal League twelve years ago.

The prize essay was read by Ruth Stott and she received the medal from the hands of Mrs. Abbott, Chester Harrington, last year's winner, not being present to pass on the medal in person. The essay of Caroline Hurwicz was given honorable mention. As there is no eighth grade in the country schools, there was no award of a second medal.

Following a selection by a string quartette, Mrs. E. V. French gave a short but inspiring address on the duties and privileges of citizenship, conveying her message in the form of a story.

The salute to the flag, the loyal league pledge and the singing of "America" closed the exercises.

The music, which was warmly commended by the speaker of the afternoon and the visiting members of the Daughters of the Revolution was furnished by the Stowe school orchestra, with Miss Miriam Sweeney, director of music at the piano.

The members of the orchestra are Elaine Eaton, Helen Tower, James Stevens, Robert Shorten, Agnes Deyernond, Alfred Greenfield, and Alice Howes, violins; Frances McTernan, David Lovely, Frederick Toohy, Doris Johnson and Emma Briggs, banjo-mandolins; Grace Hatch, cornet; Ruth Stott, drums.

The prize-winning essay:

First we have to have the right ideals. We must do what we think right and obey the laws.

If we are to be good citizens, we should know what is going on in the world. We could find this out by reading good literature and through a good education.

When we have leisure time we should spend it profitably; such as helping others, or

A little more than four weeks from today the voters will choose the men whom they wish to carry on Town affairs for the coming year and on the following Monday they will have the opportunity to render decisions on several important questions.

First and foremost among the matters which will probably come up for discussion is the widening and rebuilding of North Main street, a matter which has been agitated for the last twenty-five years and which has become more pressing with each succeeding year. When interviewed on this subject, Selectman Frank H. Hardy expressed himself as opposed to the bill presented to the Legislature in its present form but as still sanguine that the matter can be put through in a way more advantageous to Andover taxpayers. If an agreement can be arrived at among the interested parties it is highly probable that an article will appear in the warrant calling for an appropriation of $50,000 as Andover's share in the portion of the work to be undertaken during the coming season.

Plans for the work, already on file at the Town offices, call for a widening of the highway especially just north of the railroad bridge. It is considered desirable to secure jurisdiction over land bordering the present street giving a total width of 60 to 80 feet although it may not all be used in the proposed reconstruction. A widening of a road below the railroad bridge would give a better approach to Railroad street and removal of a part of the ledge opposite the old shop of the Tye Rubber company would be necessary if the street car turnout were retained.

A second change in the highways will doubtless be a fruitful matter for discussion. A petition has already been circulated among the abutters on Bartlett street in order that the matter of closing that portion of Bartlett street between Wheeler street and Chapel avenue may be incorporated in an article in the Town warrant. The signing of this petition are not by any means all in favor of the proposed change, but have merely expressed their willingness to have the question brought before the voters. Closely connected with this matter is the hearing called by the Board of Selectmen on petition of the Trustees of Phillips academy for the acceptance and approval as a public way of Wheeler street, now a private way. This hearing will be held in the Selectmen's office in the Town house on Monday afternoon, February 4, at three o'clock.

The matter of a new junior high school is kept constantly before the public, both by those who desire one and those who don't. It is rumored that the school committee will sponsor an article asking for a small appropriation to be expended in preparing recommendations for alterations or additions to one of the present buildings.

Candidates for the various offices have been announced in these columns as they took out their nomination papers and doubtless others will enter the lists before the final date for filing papers. Three candidates have expressed their desire to serve the Town as selectman, Frank H. Hardy who seeks reelection for a third term, Matthew Burns who polled 861 votes for that office last year, and Roland Luce who is a candidate new to Andover voters.

George A. Higgins is a candidate for reelection as Town clerk and treasurer.

THEATRES

REPERTORY THEATRE

For the first time, on any stage, "Red and Black" by Guy Bolton, will be given at The Repertory Theatre of Boston on Monday evening, February 4. "Red and Black" will be welcomed by the public as it is a mystery melodrama with all the thrills inherent to this type of play, and many more. The scene of the play is that most romantic, most picturesque and yet most blood-chilling spot, the water front of Port Said. What spot could breed so well love and hate, mystery and thrills? None. What spot could cast up such characters from so many countries, such crooks, such chivalry and such beauty. The plot of the play deals with the loss of the Romanoff jewels and the battle for them between the Royalists and the agents of crookdom, and how through the distress of a beautiful woman, involved against her will, an American sailor intervenes, and with the help of Poppa Vicard, the man no one knows whether they have seen or not, and the scourges of crookdom, manages to outwit the lot.

The first scene of the play is The Cafe Radi Mahmoud, on the water front of Port Said. The Cafe is frequented by all types indigent to such dives. There are exotic dancers and dancing, there are fearsome plotters and plotting. Life is such a port in such a dive is depicted. The next scene moves to the Antiquary Shop of Old Bezan, the center of the web of plotters, dusky and crowded with all sorts of relics, especially implements of murder, in which Madam Bezan takes a great fancy; and then comes Terry's Lodgings, and then comes the various parties close in on the jewels and thirst for revenge. Where is Poppa Vicard? What is the outcome? All will be disclosed next Monday at The Repertory. The play is produced and directed by Henry Jewett. The Company will appear as follows: Edith Barrett as Denise; Milton Owen as Captain Dubois; Olga Birkbeck as Nargessa; Arthur Sircorn as Terry McCollom; Robert Noble as Gaunt; Thayer Roberts as Rykoff; Katharine Warren as Madam Bezan; Thomas Shearer as Zagha; William Mason as Mustapha Bey; Benjamin Osipow as Kaprinio, and many trained dancers, native women and sailors of the port.

SHUBERT THEATRE

The nationally famed "Greenwich Village Follies" will draw the limelight to the Shubert Theatre, Boston, on Monday night, February 4th.

At the New York Winter Garden, and latterly in Chicago, this big revue settled itself as one of the best sellers of the year. Its players, perhaps, as much as any other factor, have figured largely in placing this attraction in the bonanza class. Fortunately the producers have been able to hold all the principals for tour, so that continued prosperity is assured. With comedy as the high note of untrammelled revelry, the line-up presents such chosen favorites as Dr. Rockwell, Blossom Seeley, Evelyn Law, Jans and Whalen, Benny Fields, Carlos and Valeria, Laura Lee, Eddie Shubert, Helen Gilligan, Jennie Beach, Walter Armin, Babe Fenton, Ben Dova, Sheila Barrett, Madeline and Hoyt Meredith and half-a-hundred studio models of curvilinear delights. Arnold Johnson's Orchestra swells the presentation.

In addition to the work of the stage-filling chorus, the original Chester Hale Girls stage two classic ballets, one being based on the Homeric Legend of Ulysses and Calypso. No less than 150 people occupy 26 immense and gorgeous settings.

This year's edition of the "Greenwich Village Follies" was staged by J. C. Huffman, who has some very definite ideas on the technique of staging a revue. "There can be no rubber stamp method of putting a revue together," Huffman says. "Knowing what the public wants at the time is the basis of success for a revue," the producer declares. "Fashions in revues change rapidly and last year's hit may be this year's dismal failure. A few seasons ago there was a flood of 'immediate' revues. Now a revue cannot be too spectacular or have too much humor and girls who can dance."

METROPOLITAN THEATRE

Despite the massiveness of the sets used in "The Red Dance," Raoul Walsh's current super production for Fox Films, and the detail employed on their designing and construction, Walsh is authority for the statement that apparently simple props used in the production caused him more worry and grief than any of the massive sets. He had reference to a troika, meaning the typical three horse Russian sleigh, and the drosky, another Russian vehicle. Studio artists spent many troublesome hours building the vehicles and then there were many hours spent in training the horses, especially to the tune of the sleigh bells' musical jingles, unknown in the country where they have no snow. The picture will reveal the results attained.

"The Red Dance" which is brought to the Metropolitan Theatre screen, starting Friday, February 1st, is from the novel by H. L. Gates and Eleanor Browne. The principal role of "Tasia", the Russian peasant girl, who later becomes the mysterious Red Dancer and leads the revolutionists, is the most colorful Dolores Del Rio has had to date. Charles Farrell of "7th Heaven" and "Street Angel" fame, plays the opposite lead as the Grand Duke Eugene of Russia, while Ivan Lonow, the Russian giant, portrays a private soldier who becomes a "Red" general. "The Red Dance" is a flaming story of love and revolution, which created a sensation during its Broadway run. Again the stage show will be outstanding from the beginning until the last dance. Ted Claire, the ever-youthful master of ceremonies, will offer several popular numbers, assisted by the Met Syncopators in the Public musical show, "Koolin' Off", with Lewis and Doty, of "Hello, Hello, Hello" fame; Pickard and Pal, an intellectual trained seal; the Western Sisters; acrobatic dancers; and Gladys St. John, well-known prima donna. The beautiful Gamby-Hale girls will offer some new and eccentric steps in the icicle ballet, a novelty number devised especially for this unit, all helping to make this Public stage show one of the highest and better presentations being booked at the Metropolitan.

Roane's Pennsylvanians of Lowell, who are well liked in Greater Lawrence since the days of their permanent residence in this district, will give a welcome to old friends at the Crystal ballroom in Shawheen village this evening. The Pennsylvanians were heard by a large number of dance enthusiasts on the occasion of their first visit a few weeks ago and a capacity gathering is looked for this evening. For the week-end dancing party tomorrow evening the Jersey Jicc-Jacs will be back on the job, which means the customary packed house for the last day of the week. Admission dancing and free cloak checking will prevail both tonight and tomorrow night.

Andover Family Listed in Compendium of American Genealogy

The third volume of The Abridged Compendium of American Genealogy, which has just been published by F. A. Virkus & Company, of Chicago, contains the lineage records of Miss Edna A. Brown, of 7 Puntard avenue, and Dr. and Mrs. Claude M. Fuess.

According to this volume, Miss Brown is descended in the ninth generation from Chad Brown who came from England in the "Martin," to Boston, in 1638, and was the signer of the Providence Plantations Compact. He settled at Baptist Church, Providence, after Roger Williams, 1642. Maturin Ballou, another immigrant ancestor, was co-proprietor with Roger Williams in the Providence Plantations.

Miss Brown is an author. She is librarian at the Memorial Hall Library School, and is a member of the November and Durant clubs, and the Women's City Club of Boston. Dr. Fuess is descended in the twelfth generation from Elder John Strong (1605-1699), who came from England in the "Mary and John," to Nantasket, Massachusetts, in 1630, settled at Dorchester, Massachusetts, in 1630 and later at Hingham where he was made freeman and representative to the General Court.

Dr. Fuess received his M.A. at Columbia in 1906 and Ph.D. in 1912 and is an author and instructor of English. He is member of the Historical society of Boston, the Military Order of the World War and the Boston Authors' club, the Harvard, the University club of Boston and the North Andover club. Mrs. Fuess is descended in the ninth generation from Colonel William Pepperell (1647-1733), who was born in Wales and apprenticed to the captain of a fishing schooner on the coast of New England. He settled at the Isles of Shoals and then at Kittery, Maine. In 1714 he was made captain of the provincial militia and commander of the fort at Kittery Point and later lieutenant colonel of the militia of York County. He was justice of the Court of Common Pleas from 1715 to 1730 and deputy of the General Court of Massachusetts in 1690. In this lineage is also Mary, daughter of William Pepperell. She married Hon. John Frost, the son of Major Charles, and there is also Matthew Cushing (1588-1660), who came from England in the "Diligent," to Hingham, Massachusetts, in 1638; and Rev. John Blunt who graduated from Harvard in 1727 and was ordained at New Castle, N. H., in 1732.

Mrs. Fuess is a member of the Colonial Dames of America, and the New England Historic-Genealogical Society. Three issues of the Compendium have been issued to date. These contain upwards of 20,000 American lineages from the first ancestor in America down to the present generations. The indexes to these three volumes are the most extensive genealogical indexes ever compiled for a single publication. They list upwards of 150,000 ancestors and include virtually every name distinguished in the colonial history of America. It is indeed rare that one cannot find one or more of one's ancestors listed in the indexes. These volumes are in the Andover public library where they are available to the public in the reference room.

THE ANDOVER TOWNSMAN

Looking Back Twenty-five Years

Miss Mary F. Mason has been kept from her duties as clerk at the Tye Rubber company's office this week by a severe cold.

The Andover National Bank has just installed a Burrows adding machine. This machine will add any number of figures of large or small denominations as accurately as a person and does the work faster.

The little daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Hiland F. Holt, Orville Granger, was christened on Wednesday afternoon at five o'clock at the home on Summer street. The service was performed in the presence of many relatives and friends.

Rev. George A. Andrews of the West church has received the call to the First Congregational church of Holliston and will leave the West church at an early date. Mr. Andrews has been pastor of the West church since June 1899 going there from the Andover seminary, of which he is a graduate.

The school committee expect to come before the town at the March meeting with a proposition to make extensive improvements in several of the school buildings, especially in the matter of heating and sanitation. The Punched school has no sanitary accommodations and no toilet arrangements except those furnished by the small building in the rear. The same conditions exist at the John Dove, Indian Ridge and Bradlee schools. Heating arrangements in Punched are also inadequate although there are now four furnaces in use in the building. It seems best to the committee after a careful consideration of the whole question and after consulting with experts, to propose to move the building of an annex in the rear of the John Dove schoolhouse, this will furnish room in the basement for a plant sufficient to heat the three buildings, Stowe, John Dove and Punched. Including the kindergarten, for which accommodations are now rented outside, at least three new rooms are needed, and possibly four. These will be furnished on the first floor of the proposed annex. Since a one-story building is comparatively much more expensive than a two-story building, it seems advisable to the committee to recommend to the town that this annex be built two stories high. This will provide, it is thought for any increase in the attendance of the schools for a number of years to come. By removing the present heating apparatus from the basements of the Punched and John Dove building, space can be secured for the introduction of proper sanitary and toilet rooms.

Mrs. J. F. Kimball was severely injured on Tuesday afternoon by falling on the ice and breaking her hip. The accident occurred on Central street near the Imperial house. She was removed to her home by clerks in T. A. Holt's store.

A meeting was held before the County Commissioners in the lower Town hall yesterday morning on a petition of the Board of Selectmen and J. T. Lovejoy, Abraham Marland and G. A. Higgins to view the county road between the Shawshen river and Elm square and if deemed advisable to straighten, widen and repave the lines of said road. B. Frank Smith, chairman of the Board of Selectmen said that of course there would be considerable expense on moving the buildings which are in the way, back a proper distance but hoped the expense would not tax the county heavily. J. E. Smith, superintendent of public works said that if the work was carried out the highway would be sixty-six feet wide from the Square to the bridge over the Shawshen in Marland village. He said that he thought it would be necessary to move only two buildings which are dwelling houses.

For two weeks it has been the "straight and narrow path" with a vengeance. The traveller up Main street has been obliged to follow if he chanced to be riding in a sleigh. Sleighs have been upset and runners wrenched in car tracks until the patience of those who use the streets for necessary driving has been well nigh exhausted. The path has been high with most abrupt sidings. Various changes in the law have been made until it is as clear as public statute can make it that the street railways must remove the snow in such a manner as not to have the street unsafe for travel. (Editorial)

The annual meeting of the Punched Alumni association was held last Friday evening. Supper was served by Caterer Rhodes to 114 members and guests. After the supper President Albert W. Lowe called the meeting to order. Among the speakers were Judge George H. Poor, Superintendent of Schools Corwin F. Palmer, Miss Mary Alice Abbott, Rev. William G. Poor, Representative John N. Cole, Dr. Alton W. Peirce. Officers were elected as follows: President, Charles W. Clark; first vice president, William A. Trow; second vice president, Harry A. Downing; third vice president, P. Gold Ramsdell; secretary, Charles H. Shearer; executive committee, Mrs. David Shaw, Miss Anna B. Abbott, Miss Bertha Coutts. A meeting of the old L. and S. society was then held with Mr. Gutterston, president, and Miss Anna Abbott, secretary pro tem. When this part of the meeting was over, the hall was cleared for dancing which was enjoyed by the young folks to music furnished by Thomas' orchestra.

West Parish
Daniel Fitzpatrick spent the early part of the week with his mother in Cambridge.

Miss Marjorie Morrill has been spending a few days with her grandmother, Mrs. H. K. Swasey of Haverhill.

The following officers were elected by the C. E. society to serve for the next six months: President, William A. Trow; vice president, Frank Hill; secretary, Dora Ward; corresponding secretary, Clara A. Putnam; treasurer, Gayton Abbott.

Ballardvale
The Y. M. C. T. A. has purchased a square piano for their room.

The Ballardvale mills are making arrangements to have an exhibit of their products at the World's Fair to be held at St. Louis the coming summer.

The Methodist Ladies' Aid society will hold their annual fair in Bradlee hall next Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. The entertainments will include impersonations and readings by Prof. H. C. Leavenworth and vocal solos by Miss Alice Hinton and Fred Urquhart.

Last Monday evening, Ballardvale Lodge, No. 105, held their entertainment in Good Templar hall which was filled to overflowing. The chief feature of the evening was the presentation of the strong two-act temperance drama, "Three Glasses a Day, or the Broken Home." It was given by the following strong array of local talent: Albert E. Farrell; Edmond E. Hammond, John P. McIntyre, Miss Adele Matthews, Miss Mollie F. Sherry and Miss Sadie M. Steed. Between the acts Mrs. John Fallows and Charles Pearson sang a duet. Timothy Haggerty played several violin accompaniments in a creditable manner.

Guild Notes

A number of changes have been made in the Guild schedule since Christmas to accommodate new members who have been organized. As the Guild is now the home of thirty-two clubs and classes the weekly attendance is very heavy.

The Nursing Committee of the Red Cross has changed its time of meeting to the first Monday morning in each month. The afternoon schedule is as follows:

Mondays, Girl Scouts with Miss Catherine Sweet as leader; Children's Song and Story club conducted by Miss Davis assisted by Miss Minnie Valentine and Miss Carolyn Abbott.

Tuesdays, Punched basketball girls, coached by Miss Evelyn Parker followed by a gymnasium class for Junior Girls from St. Augustine's led by Miss Parker, assisted by Miss Mary Partridge. The Baby Clinic conducted by Miss Marie Campbell and her assistants meets the first and third Tuesdays in each month.

Wednesdays, There is a gymnasium class for Junior Boys led by John Scherner; the Girls' Dramatic club led by Mrs. Robert Franz; and a sewing group from the Andover Mother's club. This organization, presided over by Mrs. Raymond Brickett holds its general business meeting the first Wednesday afternoon in each month.

Thursdays the Punched girls' basketball practice is followed by a gymnasium class for Junior Girls from Stowe, John Dove and Indian Ridge schools, led by Miss Evelyn Parker assisted by Miss Betty Ceter.

Fridays, gymnasium class for Elementary Boys led by John Scherner, and Junior Girls' Cooking class led by Mrs. Allan Heely. There are three groups Saturday mornings: a gymnasium class for Elementary Girls led by Miss Davis; Junior Boys Glee club led by Miss Minnie Valentine and a kindergarten group conducted by Miss Eleanor Bacon.

The evening classes show a preference for the gymnasium although pool, bowling, and checkers are very popular. In order to schedule all gymnasium groups, it has been necessary to limit each class to an hour and a quarter a week. The evening schedule is as follows:

Mondays, practice for the Intermediate Boys' basketball team, followed by practice for the Seniors' basketball team. Both of these groups are coached by James Bissett.

Tuesdays, Intermediate Girls' gymnasium class followed by a basketball period for high school and business girls. These groups are in charge of Miss Evelyn Miller.

Wednesdays, the Free church, Colonial club, Boy Scout Bugle and Drum Corps led by John Scherner and the Senior Girls' cooking club conducted by Mrs. Frank Crawford. The Degree of Honor meets the third Wednesday evening in each month.

Thursdays, Intermediate Boys' gymnasium class is followed by a gymnasium class for Senior young men. Both of these groups are led by James Bissett. William Gillis assisted by George Porter conducts the bowling and pool room activities for these groups. The Americanization class conducted by Miss Chickering, Mrs. Hussey, and Miss Carter meets on Thursday evening and the Loyal Order of United Workmen holds its monthly meeting the fourth Thursday in the month.

Fridays, employed Girls' gymnasium class is followed by a basketball period for Senior Girls conducted by Miss Davis. Saturdays, the Boys' club team from Ballardvale coached by Edwin Scheyer uses the first period with the second period open for any additional group wishing to be scheduled.

A number of inter-class games basketball have been played since Christmas and a series of games were played this week with out-of-town teams.

On Monday evening the Guild Seniors were defeated by Clan MacPherson by a score of 20 to 19. Tuesday afternoon Punched basketball girls won a victory over Johnson girls with a score of 34 to 28, and Wednesday evening the Free Church played Grace church resulting in a score of 18 to 14 in favor of the visitors. The Senior Girls will play St. Lawrence Friday evening and Ballardvale club boys have scheduled a game for Saturday evening with the St. Augustine's dramatic club.

Persons wishing to attend Guild basketball games are requested to take out membership tickets as no admission is charged except when the Guild is rented for a special benefit game. The adult membership fee is $1.00 per year or 50 cents per year for intermediates or persons under seventeen years of age. Not only does this membership ticket entitle the holder to attend matches but also admits him to one gymnasium class per week and all privileges of the Guild.

Blue Natators Swamp Dean Swimmers

The Phillips academy natators swamped the Dean academy mermen in the Andover pool Saturday afternoon, 52 to 10 and the academy and pool record for the 100-yard back stroke event was again broken. Robert B. Anderson the week before in a dual meet against the Boston Boys' club had clipped six seconds from the former school record, which had stood at 1 minute, 14 3/5 seconds since 1926. Saturday, against Dean, Anderson lowered his record of the previous week by 4-5 seconds, winning the event in 1 minute, 7 4/5 seconds.

The inter-scholastic record in the 100-yard backstroke is 1 minute 3 3/5 seconds, held by George Kojac, Olympic champion this year. It is confidently expected at Andover that Bob Anderson will come very near to equalling, if not bettering the mark before the season is out.

Andover won every first place in the meet and most of the other places. The relay went to Andover by the length of the pool.

The summary of the meet:
Relay—Won by Andover (King, Mooney, Jones, Westfall); Dean, (Holden, Sternburg, Gates, Learned). Time: 1 minute 47 2/5 seconds.

Dive—Won by Williamson, Andover; second, McCloy, Andover; third, Hicks, Dean.
50-Yard Free Stroke—Won by Jones, Andover; second, King, Andover; third, Learned, Dean. Time: 27 2/5 seconds.

THEATRES

REPERTORY THEATRE

For the first time, on any stage, "Red and Black" by Guy Bolton, will be given at The Repertory Theatre of Boston on Monday evening, February 4. "Red and Black" will be welcomed by the public as it is a mystery melodrama with all the thrills inherent to this type of play, and many more. The scene of the play is that most romantic, most picturesque and yet most blood-chilling spot, the water front of Port Said. What spot could breed so well love and hate, mystery and thrills? None. What spot could cast up such characters from so many countries, such crooks, such chivalry and such beauty. The plot of the play deals with the loss of the Romanoff jewels and the battle for them between the Royalists and the agents of crookdom, and how through the distress of a beautiful woman, involved against her will, an American sailor intervenes, and with the help of Poppa Vicard, the man no one knows whether they have seen or not, and the scourges of crookdom, manages to outwit the lot.

The first scene of the play is The Cafe Radi Mahmoud, on the water front of Port Said. The Cafe is frequented by all types indigent to such dives. There are exotic dancers and dancing, there are fearsome plotters and plotting. Life is such a pose in such a dive is truly depicted. The next scene moves to the Antiquary Shop of Old Bezan, the center of the web of plotters, dusky and crowded with all sorts of relics, especially implements of murder, in which Madam Bezan takes a great fancy; and then comes Terry's Lodgings and night, and the various parties close in on the jewels and thirst for revenge. Where is Poppa Vicard? What is the outcome? All will be disclosed next Monday at The Repertory. The play is produced and directed by Henry Jewell. The Company will appear as follows: Edith Barrett as Denise; Milton Owen as Captain Dubois; Olga Birbeck as Margessa; Arthur Sircum as Terry McColom; Robert Noble as Gaunt; Thayer Roberts as Rykoff; Katharine Warren as Madam Bezan; Thomas Shearer as Zapha; William Mason as Mustapha Bey; Benjamin Osipow as Kaprinio, and many trained dancers, native women and sailors of the port.

SHUBERT THEATRE

The nationally famed "Greenwich Village Follies" will draw the limelight to the Shubert Theatre, Boston, on Monday night, February 4th.

At the New York Winter Garden, and latterly in Chicago, this big revue settled itself as one of the best sellers of the year. Its players, perhaps, as much as any other factor, have figured largely in placing this attraction in the bonanza class. Fortunately the producers have been able to hold all the principals for tour, so that continued prosperity is assured. With comedy as the highlight of untrammelled revelry, the line-up presents such chosen favorites as Dr. Rockwell, Blossom Seelye, Evelyn Law, Jans and Whalen, Benny Fields, Carlos and Valeria, Laura Lee, Eddie Shubert, Helen Gilligan, Jennie Beach, Walter Armin, Babe Fenton, Ben Dova, Sheila Barrett, Madeline and Hoyt Meredith and half-a-hundred studio models of curvilinear delights. Arnold Johnson's Orchestra swells the presentation.

In addition to the work of the stage-filling chorus, the original Chester Hale Girls stage two classic ballets, one being based on the Homeric Legend of Ulysses and Calypso. No less than 150 people occupy 26 immense and gorgeous settings.

This year's edition of the "Greenwich Village Follies" was staged by J. C. Huffman, who has some very definite ideas on the technique of staging a revue. "There can be no rubber stamp method of putting a revue together," Huffman says. "Knowing what the public wants at the time is the basis of success for a revue," the producer declares. "Fashions in revues change rapidly and last year's hit may be this year's dismal failure. A few seasons ago there was a flood of 'intimate' revues. Now a revue cannot be too spectacular or have too much humor and girls who can dance."

METROPOLITAN THEATRE

Despite the massiveness of the sets used in "The Red Dance," Raoul Walsh's current super-production for Fox Films, and the detail employed on their designing and construction, Walsh is authority for the statement that apparently simple props used in the production caused him more worry and grief than any of the massive sets.

He had reference to a troika, meaning the typical three horse Russian sleigh, and the droyky, another Russian vehicle. Studio artists spent many troublesome hours building the vehicles and then there were many hours spent in training the horses, especially to the tune of the sleigh bells' musical jingles, unknown in the country where they have no snow. The picture will reveal the results attained.

"The Red Dance" which is brought to the Metropolitan Theatre screen, starting Friday, February 1st, is from the novel by H. L. Gates and Eleanor Browne. The principal role of "Tasia", the Russian peasant girl, who later becomes the mysterious Red Dancer and leads the revolutionists, is the most colorful Dolores Del Rio has had to date. Charles Farrell of "7th Heaven" and "Street Angel" fame, plays the opposite lead as the Grand Duke Eugene of Russia, while Ivan Lonow, the Russian giant, portrays a private soldier who becomes a "Red" general. "The Red Dance" is a flaming story of love and revolution, which created a sensation during its Broadway run.

Again the stage show will be outstanding from the beginning until the last dance. Ted Claire, the ever-youthful master of ceremonies, will offer several popular numbers, assisted by the Met Synchronizers in the Public musical show, "Koolin' Off", with Lewis and Doty, of "Hello, Hello, Hello" fame; Pickard and Pal, an intellectual trained seal; the Wallace Sisters; acrobatic dancers; and Gladys St. John well-known prima donna. The beautiful Gamby-Hale girls will offer some new and eccentric steps in the icicle ballet, a novelty number devised especially for this unit, all helping to make this Public stage show one of the biggest and better presentations being booked at the Metropolitan.

Martel at the organ, and Geissler and the Grand Orchestra complete the programme.

Pennsylvanians at Crystal Ballroom

Roane's Pennsylvanians of Lowell, who are well liked in Greater Lawrence since the days of their permanent residence in this district, will give a welcome to old friends at the Crystal ballroom in Shawheen village this evening. The Pennsylvanians were heard by a large number of dance enthusiasts on the occasion of their first visit a few weeks ago and a capacity gathering is looked for this evening. For the week-end dancing party tomorrow evening the Jersey Jive-Jacks will be back on the job, which means the customary packed house for the last day of the week. Admission dancing and free cloak checking will prevail both tonight and tomorrow night.

Andover Family Listed in Compendium of American Genealogy

The third volume of The Abridged Compendium of American Genealogy, which has just been published by F. A. Virkus & Company, of Chicago, contains the lineage records of Miss Edna A. Brown, of 7 Pynchard avenue, and Dr. and Mrs. Claude M. Fuess.

According to this volume, Miss Brown is descended in the ninth generation from Chad Brown who came from England in 1638, and was the signer of the Providence Plantations Compact. He settled at Baptist Church, Providence, after Roger Williams, 1642. Maturin Ballou, another immigrant ancestor, was co-proprietor with Roger Williams in the Providence Plantations.

Miss Brown is an author. She is librarian at the Memorial Hall Library School, and is a member of the November and Durant clubs, and the Women's City Club of Boston. Dr. Fuess is descended in the twelfth generation from Elder John Strong (1605-1699), who came from England in the "Mary and John," to Nantasket, Massachusetts, in 1630, settled at Dorchester, Massachusetts, in 1630 and later at Hingham where he was made freeman and representative to the General Court.

Dr. Fuess received his M.A. at Columbia in 1906 and Ph.D. in 1912 and is an author and instructor of English. He is member of the Society of Colonial Wars, the Military Order of the World War and the Boston Authors' club, the Harvard, the University club of Boston and the North Andover club. Mrs. Fuess is descended in the ninth generation from Colonel William Pepperell (1647-1733), who was born in Wales and apprenticed to the captain of a fishing schooner on the coast of New England. He settled at the Isles of Shoals and then at Kittery, Maine. In 1714 he was made captain of the provincial militia and commander of the fort at Kittery Point and later lieutenant colonel of the militia of York County. He was justice of the Court of Common Pleas from 1715 to 1730 and deputy of the General Court of Massachusetts in 1696. In this lineage is also Mary, daughter of William Pepperell. She married Hon. John Frost, the son of Major Charles, and there is also Matthew Cushing (1588-1660), who came from England in the "Diligent," to Hingham, Massachusetts, in 1638; and Rev. John Blunt who graduated from Harvard in 1727 and was ordained at New Castle, N. H., in 1732.

Mrs. Fuess is a member of the Colonial Dames of America, and the New England Historic-Genealogical Society. Three issues of the Compendium have been issued to date. These contain upwards of 20,000 American lineages from the first ancestor in America down to the present generations. The indexes to these three volumes are the most complete genealogical indexes ever compiled for a single publication. They list upwards of 150,000 ancestors and include virtually every name distinguished in the colonial history of America. It is indeed rare that one cannot find one or more of one's ancestors listed in the indexes. These volumes are in the Andover public library where they are available to the public in the reference room.

Girls' Friendly Holds Dance at November Clubhouse

The Girls' Friendly society of the Christ church held its annual mid-winter dance on last Friday evening in the November clubhouse with a large attendance. Siskind's orchestra furnished the dance music. The attraction of the evening was a special song and dance number by Chris Murphy. The dance committee: Edythe Wrigley, chairman; Annetta Anderson, Minnie Valentine, Grace Larkin, Evelyn Miller and Beatrice Farnsworth.

Looking Back Twenty-five Years

Miss Mary F. Mason has been kept from her duties as clerk at the Tyler Rubber company's office this week by a severe cold.

The Andover National Bank has just installed a Burrows adding machine. This machine will add any number of figures of large or small denominations as accurately as a person and does the work faster.

The little daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Hiland P. Holt, Orville Granger, was christened on Wednesday afternoon at five o'clock at the home on Summer street. The service was performed in the presence of many relatives and friends.

Rev. George A. Andrews of the West church has received the call to the First Congregational church of Holliston and will leave the West church at an early date. Mr. Andrews has been pastor of the West church since June 1899 going there from the Andover seminary, of which he is a graduate.

The school committee expect to come before the town at the March meeting with a proposition to make extensive improvements in several of the school buildings, especially in the matter of heating and sanitation. The Pundard school has no sanitary accommodations and no toilet arrangements except those furnished by the small building in the rear. The same conditions of things exists at the John Dove, Indian Ridge and Bradlee schools. Heating arrangements in Pundard are also inadequate although there are now four furnaces in use in the building. It seems best to the committee after a careful consideration of the whole question and after consulting with experts to propose to enlarge the building of an annex in the rear of the John Dove schoolhouse, this will furnish room in the basement for a plant sufficient to heat the three buildings, Stowe, John Dove and Pundard. Including the kindergarten, for which accommodations are now rented outside, at least three new rooms are needed, and possibly four. These will be furnished on the first floor of the proposed annex. Since a one-story building is comparatively much more expensive than a two-story building, it seems advisable to the committee to recommend to the town that this annex be built two stories high. This will provide, it is thought for any increase in the attendance of the schools for a number of years to come. By removing the present heating apparatus from the basements of the Pundard and John Dove building, space can be secured for the introduction of proper sanitary and toilet rooms.

Mrs. J. F. Kimball was severely injured on Tuesday afternoon by falling on the ice and breaking her hip. The accident occurred on Central street near the Imperial house. She was removed to her home by clerks in T. A. Holt's store.

A meeting was held before the County Commissioners in the lower town, last yesterday morning on a petition of the Board of Selectmen and J. T. Lovejoy, Abraham Marland and G. A. Higgins to view the county road between the Shawshen river, Elm square and if deemed advisable to extend the road to the village of the lines of said road. B. Frank Smith, chairman of the Board of Selectmen said that of course there would be considerable expense on moving the buildings which are in the way, back a proper distance but hoped the expense would not be too great.

J. E. Smith, superintendent of public works said that if the work was carried out the highway would be sixty-six feet wide from the square to the bridge over the Shawshen in Marland village. He said that he thought it would be necessary to move only two buildings which are dwelling houses.

For two weeks it has been the "straight and narrow path" with a vengeance, which the traveler up Main street has been obliged to follow if he chanced to be riding in a sleigh. Sleighs have been upset and runners wrenched in car tracks until the patience of those who use the streets for necessary driving has been well nigh exhausted. The path has been not only straight and narrow but it has been high with most abrupt sidings. Various changes in the law have been made until it is as clear as public statute can make it that the street railways must remove the snow in such a manner as not to have the street unsafe for travel. (Editorial)

The annual meeting of the Pundard Alumni association was held last Friday evening. Supper was served by Caterer Rhodes to 114 members and guests. After the supper President Albert W. Lowe called the meeting to order. Among the speakers were Judge George H. Poor, Superintendent of Schools Corwin F. Palmer, Miss Mary Alice Abbot, Rev. William G. Poor, Representative John N. Cole, Dr. Alton W. Peirce. Officers were elected as follows: President, Charles W. Clark; first vice president, William A. Trow; second vice president, Harry A. Downing; third vice president, H. Gold-Ramsdell; secretary, Miss Bessie P. Goldsmith; treasurer, Charles H. Shearer; executive committee, Mrs. David Shaw, Miss Anna B. Abbott, Miss Bertha Coutts. A meeting of the old L. and S. society was held with Mr. Gutterston, president, and Miss Anna Abbott, secretary pro tem. When this part of the meeting was over the hall was cleared for dancing which was enjoyed by the young folks to music furnished by Thomas' orchestra.

West Parish
Daniel Fitzpatrick spent the early part of the week with his mother in Cambridge.

Miss Marjorie Morrill has been spending a few days with her grandmother, Mrs. H. K. Swasey of Haverhill.

The following officers were elected by the C. E. society to serve for the next six months: President, William A. Trow; vice president, Frank Hill; secretary, Dora Ward; corresponding secretary, Clara A. Putnam; treasurer, Gayton Abbott.

Ballardvale
The Y. M. C. T. A. has purchased a square piano for their room.

The Ballardvale mills are making arrangements to have an exhibit of their products at the World's Fair to be held at St. Louis the coming summer.

The Methodist Ladies' Aid society will hold their annual fair in Bradlee hall next Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. The entertainments will include impersonations and readings by Prof. H. C. Leavenworth and vocal solos by Miss Alice Hinton and Fred Urquhart.

Last Monday evening, Ballardvale Lodge, No. 105, held their entertainment in Good Templar hall which was filled to overflowing. The chief feature of the evening was the presentation of the strong two-act temperance drama, "Three Glasses a Day, or the Broken Home." It was given by the following strong array of local talent: Albert E. Farrell, Edmond E. Hammond, John P. McIntyre, Miss Adele Matthews, Miss Mollie F. Sherry and Miss Sadie M. Steed. Between the acts Mrs. John Fallows and Charles Pearson sang a duet. Timothy Haggerty played several violin accompaniments in a creditable manner.

Guid Notes

A number of changes have been made in the Guild schedule since Christmas to accommodate new groups which have been organized. As the Guild is now the home of thirty-two clubs and classes the weekly attendance is very heavy.

The Nursing Committee of the Red Cross has changed its time of meeting to the first Monday morning in each month. The afternoon schedule is as follows:

There are three groups Saturday mornings: a gymnasium class for Elementary Girls led by Miss Davis; Junior Boys Glee club led by Miss Minnie Valentine and a kindergarten group conducted by Miss Eleanor Bacon.

The evening classes show a preference for the gymnasium although pool, bowling and checkers are very popular. In order to schedule all gymnasium groups, it has been necessary to limit each class to an hour and a quarter a week. The evening schedule is as follows:

Mondays, practice for the Intermediate Boys' basketball team, followed by practice for the Seniors' basketball team. Both of these groups are coached by James Bissett.

Tuesdays, Intermediate Girls' gymnasium class followed by a basketball period for high school and business girls. These groups are in charge of Miss Evelyn Miller.

Fridays, employed Girls' gymnasium class is followed by a basketball period for Senior Girls conducted by Miss Davis.

Saturdays, the Boys' club team from Ballardvale coached by Edwin Scheyer uses the first period with the second period open for any additional group wishing to be scheduled.

A number of inter-class games basketball have been played since Christmas and a series of games were played this week with out-of-town teams.

On Monday evening the Guild Seniors were defeated by Clan MacPherson by a score of 20 to 19. Tuesday afternoon Pundard basketball girls won a victory over Johnson girls with a score of 34 to 28, and Wednesday evening the Free Church played Grace church resulting in a score of 18 to 14 in favor of the visitors. The Senior Girls will play St. Lawrence Friday evening and Ballardvale club boys have scheduled a game for Saturday evening with the St. Augustine's dramatic club.

Persons wishing to attend Guild basketball games are requested to take out membership tickets as no admission is charged except when the Guild is rented for a special benefit game. The adult membership fee is $1.00 per year or 50 cents per year for Intermediates or persons under seventeen years of age. Not only does this membership ticket entitle the holder to attend match games but also admits him to one gymnasium class per week and all privileges of the Guild.

Blue Natators Swamp Dean Swimmers

The Phillips academy natators swamped the Dean academy swimmers in the Andover pool Saturday afternoon. 52 to 10 and the academy and pool record for the 100-yard back stroke event was again broken. Robert B. Anderson the week before in a dual meet against the Boston Boys' club had clipped six seconds from the former school record, which had stood at 1 minute 14 3/5 seconds since 1926. Saturday, against Dean, Anderson lowered his record of the previous week by 4 1/2 seconds, winning the event in 1 minute, 7 1/2 seconds.

The inter-scholastic record in the 100-yard backstroke is 1 minute 3 1/2 seconds, held by George Kojac, Olympic champion this year. It is confidently expected at Andover that Bob Anderson will come very near to equalling, if not bettering the mark before the season is out.

Andover won every first place in the meet and most of the other places. The relay went to Andover by the length of the pool. The summary of the meet:

Relay—Won by Andover (King, Mooney, Jones, Westfall); Dean, (Holden, Sternburg, Gates, Learned). Time: 1 minute 47 2/5 seconds.

Dive—Won by Williamson, Andover; second, McCloy, Andover; third, Hicks, Dean. 50-Yard Free Stroke—Won by Jones, Andover; second, King, Andover; third, Learned, Dean. Time: 27 2/5 seconds.

100-Yard Free Stroke—Won by Nooney, Andover; second, Jamieson, Andover; third, Ingram, Dean. Time: 62 2/5 seconds.

100-Yard Back Stroke—Won by Anderson, Andover; second, Gates, Dean; third, Wiley, Andover. Time: 1 minute 7 1/2 seconds.

50-Yard Breast Stroke—Won by Tutlock, Andover; second, Loveland, Dean; third, Phillips, Andover. Time: 36 3/5 seconds.

Will Ignorance Be Bliss?

In a special article to The Boston Herald, H. F. Manchester discusses at length the latest book of Prof. Walter B. Pitkin of Columbia University, entitled "The Twilight of the American Mind." It is not easy to agree with every thing that Prof. Pitkin writes about the decreasing value of the individual mind, but the work is replete with good points concerning American high pressure business methods.

Prof. Pitkin points out that as time goes on system is gradually taking the place of the individual. There is not enough room at the top, he says, and the prospects are that there will be less and less. It stands to reason that it takes fewer good men to run a chain of twenty newspapers controlled from a central office than it would to man twenty independent newspapers. The same applies to chain stores, theatres, hotels and restaurants. Mass-production factories. Incidentally, who knows but what the latter offers a partial solution for the depression in the cotton industry, the ownership of which is so widely scattered that not more than five per cent of the factories is owned by any one corporation. A more united front to hold against foreign competition might produce better results than small family quarrels and cut-throat competition.

Prof. Pitkin sums up his propositions as follows:

"Give as much work as possible to machines and to System. Give as little as possible to men.

"Never give to any man work which another man of less ability can do equally well, so far as the finished product is concerned.

"The first half of this was realized and adopted many years ago. But only in the last few decades have industrialists attained full insight into the second half. It reverses all the doctrines of the sages and philosophers. They have urged that we should find the best possible man for each and every job; and they construed this as meaning that all working men should have the best possible native ability and education. Now we see that the best man for a job is he who is barely adequate to it.

"The second proposition comes from modern psychology. It is the cornerstone of the new personnel management as well as of psychiatry. And like the first proposition, it is double barreled. It runs thus:

"A man who finds no adequate outlet for his strongest native capacities and for his special abilities is blocked, thwarted, and eventually upset. He becomes neurotic or simply apathetic or savagely rebellious. And he causes trouble to himself and to others until set right.

"There are two kinds of such maladjustment. One arises from undertaking work which exceeds one's capacities and abilities. The other arises from work which falls far short of the latter. The first usually causes overstrain, worry, and eventual collapse of some kind. The second causes irritation, anger, rebellion, and a tendency to quit the job suddenly; or, in another type of person, it causes unpleasant reverie, which often becomes a sort of hysterical brooding over real or fancied troubles.

"The industrialists are correct as to the first proposition. The psychologists are correct as to the second one. And the effects of the two in conjunction seem disastrous to our best minds."

He then goes on to discuss the problem, "What can our best minds do with their best minds?" He explains what he means by "best minds," describing them as "the best one per cent of the entire population; and later makes it clear that this does not mean the best of the best, but the best being, still less the complete personality." These people, he says, are the ones who will have to go begging if American machinery and system have their way. One of his best examples is the case of Henry Ford given as follows:

"In the greatest industrial unit of all history, Henry Ford's world-wide chain of factories, mills and offices, 95 per cent of all workers are taught in a single day how to run their machines and handle tools. About 5 per cent are skilled craftsmen, such as tool-makers, inspectors, mechanical engineers or designers. How many best minds are required? Certainly not more than .01 per cent of the total payroll. For every 10,000 workers Henry Ford may need one superior person, the best mind in a hundred, whose I.Q. (intelligence quotient) reaches 130 or higher. A billion-dollar business and 150,000 workers managed by a dozen or fifteen best minds!"

From this we gather that, according to Prof. Pitkin's theory, the man who is able to operate a machine with the simple operation of turning a lever or giving a bolt a good thump with a hammer, has a 10,000 to 1 chance of getting a job over his less fortunate brother who has trained his mind to a high degree of efficiency. Compare this with the proportion of best minds in the country which has been given as one in a hundred. This makes the outlook very discouraging, and yet, there must be a great advantage in system. We feel that somehow or other business will adjust itself to correct this evil, if it is an evil, and as Mr. Manchester says, "Perhaps by using their 'best minds', the class of which the professor writes can manage to outguess the real world, which may, or may not, desire to cast them into the discard. Maybe it will not be necessary for mothers to pray that their boys will turn out to be dumb."

An Evening of Negro Spirituals at Phillips Academy

On Friday evening, February 8th, at 8.15 o'clock, in the George Washington auditorium of Phillips Academy, J. Rosamond Johnson and Taylor Gordon will present an evening of Negro Spirituals. Though Mr. Johnson is a scholarly musician and Taylor Gordon a singer with a highly cultivated voice, they present the fine spirituals with a fervor that recalls most vividly their original inspiration. These singers have won for themselves the highest encomiums both in America and in England. It is said that no audience leaves without demanding many encores. The Nestor of New York critics, W. J. Henderson, sings their praises in unending measures. The evening promises to be as inspiring as it will be unique.

Admission: $1.00; $75; $50. Telephone or send check to John Dye, George Washington Auditorium, Telephone 720.

The programme follows:

Rev. Thomas L. Fisher, formerly of Woods Hole, preached at the morning service in Christ church last Sunday.

The Boy Scouts gave a reception to their friends last Friday, which was interesting to attend. A short play in which Scouts A. Davidson, Clement, Keith, Hill and Welding took part brought laughter; while the results of scout work were shown in competition trials by two groups. Refreshments prepared by Mrs. J. O. Sheppard and Mrs. H.H. Noyes were much appreciated. The Scout Troop Committee planned the affair which was carried out by assistant scoutmasters J. Davidson and S. Davis and second assistant D. Dumont. The solos of Mr. Scobie were enjoyed.

The next meeting of the Young People's Fellowship will be under the direction of the worship group. The outline of meetings for the next two months will be announced.

At the meeting of the Woman's Guild on Thursday next Mrs. Wyllie of Haiti will be an interesting speaker. The annual parish meeting and supper will come on Monday next.

ABBOT CENTENNIAL

have been artists who eschewed opera altogether. John McCormack, Evan Williams, Arthur Johnson—all great recital singers have never become opera tenors of distinction. Johnson is now in opera and may prove an exception.

Arthur Hackett has confined himself to the recital and has made a distinctive place for himself in the foremost ranks of contemporary artists. He has made a careful study of the methods of great lyric tenors and has had the great good sense to know his own voice and its capabilities. He was born in Worcester of Irish parentage, studied in Boston with Hubbard, and then went to Italy for further study. That he was able to sing with great success in Italy, where great tenors are born, proved at once that Hackett was a tenor of undoubted greatness. This early promise has been amply fulfilled during the subsequent years.

Hackett has appeared with the Boston Symphony Orchestra no less than twenty-two times; he has toured with the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra under Sokoloff and sung with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra under Gabelowitch, the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra under Herz, and the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra under Stokowski. Muck, Rabaud, Monteux, Koussevitzky, Stokowski, Gabelowitch, Sokoloff, Herz, Stokowski and other conductors have paid tribute to his beautiful voice and splendid musicianship.

But fine as he is with the glowing lack of a symphony orchestra, he is even greater in the intimacy of the recital. Hackett knows how to sing songs as few singers do. His French songs are sung in such a way as to linger long in the memory. His Italian is glorious, and his English diction is practically perfect.

The recital will be given at Abbot on Tuesday night, February 12, at eight o'clock. It is the "Samuel Morse Downs" concert and will be the last concert given in the Abbot Centennial Series.

They were rushed to the Lawrence General hospital but were released after treatment for minor lacerations inflicted by flying glass.

William H. Midgley of Shawheen Manor and Alfred Emmons of 136 Howe street, Methuen, who also were riding in the automobile, were somewhat shaken up but, according to police were not otherwise injured.

Andover Girl Enters Beauty Contest

Elizabeth Buss of Essex street is one of the entrants in the beauty contest which is to be staged at the Empire theatre, Lawrence on Monday evening.

With a group of the foremost merchants in Lawrence providing a splendid wardrobe to be given the winner of the greatest beauty contest ever conducted in that city, the Empire theatre feels confident that every girl in Lawrence who considers herself good looking will be in the contest before Saturday midnight which is the dead line for girls to enter for the wonderful awards that await the winner.

As the rules state the contest is open to any girls in Lawrence or within a radius of ten miles of Lawrence who are within the ages of 16 and 26, unmarried and with no professional stage experience. All girls will appear in bathing costume and will be given a number of rehearsals before they appear on the stage of the Empire theatre starting next Monday.

It is not necessary to be beautiful to enter the contest as the best all round girl will be selected which means that the best form, the prettiest face, personality and posture will also determine the final winner.

All the girls will appear on the stage and will be introduced to the audience on a revolving platform on the stage. The girl receiving the greatest amount of applause will be announced as the winner of each individual contest.

The remainder of the girls will again appear at the next performances and the same routine will be gone through with another girl being selected by the audience. This will continue up to and including Friday night. All those selected will appear Saturday night and before a group of competent judges one will be chosen as "Miss Lawrence" of 1929.

When the lucky damsel is announced as the winner of the contest she will at once be crowned "Miss Lawrence" 1929 and will receive the wonderful wardrobe given by Lawrence merchants.

"Miss Lawrence's" awards will not stop at the wardrobe and the title, for she will be sent to the greatest beach in New England where at the beautiful Spanish Gables she will compete against twenty other girls selected in similar contests from twenty New England cities for the greatest title of all, that of "Miss New England" 1929, of all that of this contest will receive a six months' theatre contract that will take her to all the cities in New England.

When Miss Lawrence is sent to Boston the week of July 29, which is the time the contest will be held she will be entertained and feted as no beauty contest winner has before, for she will be representing the city of Lawrence as their model of a typical Lawrence beauty. All her expenses will be paid for the entire week and it is a foregone conclusion that she will have the time of her life.

PLUMBS AGAIN LEADERS

Down Levels and Top Square and Compass Club League, One Pin Divides Squares and Gavels

The Levels stay at the top of the Square and Compass Club league was short. POLICE SHELTER BURNS

Burning Oil Heater Starts Blaze Which Ruins Policemen's Hut in Square Flying Bullets Endangers Life

A burning oil heater in the police shelter in the Square started a fire early Sunday morning which practically destroyed the building and caused much excitement. The registering of the wrong number on the fire alarm caused a delay and the oil from the heater spattering over the interior of the shelter made the wood work an easy prey to the flames.

The fire was discovered by Officer John Deyermund who was on duty and he promptly threw the burning heater outside. He was unable to return for his revolver and the extreme heat sent a shower of bullets scattering wildly around the village. Other equipment and wearing apparel was lost by Officers Dailey and Walker.

The house was built during the Shawshien development by William M. Wood and later presented to the town by the American Woolen Company.

Blackstones Win Three

The Blackstones took three from the Robert Burns last night in a Shawshien bowling league match and Humphries of the winners set a new triple record of 363, displacing Foster Robertson's old mark of 363. Humphries 131 was also high single for the night.

In the other matches the Dexters lost three to the 7-20-4's and the Pippins and J. A. split even.

Taking No Chances

A couple of mid-western business men recently attended a trade convention in a nearby city and managed to break away from their wives long enough for a quiet little dinner together in a cafe. At the end of the dinner the water asked:
"Shall I bring a coupe of demi-tasse?"
"Gosh, no," one of the men replied.
"Our wives might come in at any minute."
